Introduction

The City of Citrus Heights is planning the next phase of the Arcade-Cripple Creek Trail, extending the trail from Stock Ranch Nature Preserve to Sylvan Road and supporting the City's vision for a connected citywide trail network. The project includes a 10-foot-wide paved multi-use trail with two two-foot decomposed granite shoulders, a new signalized crossing on Sylvan Road, a creek crossing, creek embankment repairs, trail lighting, connections to existing trails within the Stock Ranch Nature Preserve, ADA-compliant curb ramps, drainage improvements, and landscaping.

The following summary highlights the Arcade-Cripple Creek Trail: Sylvan to Stock Ranch Extension pop-up held at the City of Citrus Heights' Tools of the Trade event on Thursday, May 14, 2026, from 2 pm to 5 pm. The goal of this event was to meet community members where they already gather, share information about the proposed trail extension, and promote the project's first upcoming community workshop on Thursday, June 4, 2026, at the Sylvan Community Center. This format follows the general structure of the Fruitridge pop-up summary example, including an introduction, exhibit engagement section, and display board overview.

Exhibit Engagement

The Arcade-Cripple Creek Trail: Sylvan to Stock Ranch Extension project team connected with community members at the City's booth through a variety of engaging outreach materials and activities. Community members were invited to view a display board featuring the project trail alignment, take a flyer with details about the upcoming community workshop, and learn more about the proposed trail extension and key project features.

The booth also included a whiteboard activity where participants could share what they like about trails and how they use or value trail connections in the community. This activity provided a simple and approachable way for community members to engage with the project team and share feedback. City swag giveaway items were also available to encourage participation and create a welcoming booth environment.

In addition to sharing information about the project, the team used the event to raise awareness of the first community workshop scheduled for Thursday, June 4, 2026, from 5:30 to 7:00 p.m. at the Sylvan Community Center. The workshop will give community members an opportunity to learn more about the project, review project information, and provide input.
